prepared for the

1st New Zealand Refugee Research Conference

Unitec, Auckland
September 2004

These materials are meant to encourage research by providing some starting points for reading into the various areas of refugee research. They are not meant to be exhaustive. We hope to update these materials onto a website after the conference, so please send any additions, corrections, or comments to bguerin@waikato.ac.nz. We will then include any materials we have inadvertently missed out here. There are also whole topics missed out, most noticeably education and learning second languages.

Acknowledgments

We would like to thank our sponsors for the conference who also helped make this publication possible:

- ✓ The New Zealand Government interdepartmental Social Policy Evaluation and Research Committee (SPEaR) for a Workshop Grant
- ✓ The Foundation for Science, Research & Technology, through grant UOWX0203, Strangers in Town: Enhancing Family and Community in a More Diverse New Zealand Society
